THE LITTLE WHITE BOOK

— an ultimate list of local wedding pros who 'get it.'

CONGRATULATIONS!

So you're engaged and have been already asked at least 30 times when and where...

and you have no idea.

I have something to tell you: that's so very much ok that you don't know yet. As a bride or groom, it's likely your first time doing this. And if it's not, things in the wedding industry change quickly and often. Who knows where to look or what to do first when you haven't done it before (or recently)?! Having many years in the industry, we realize that Scranton has so many talented, established wedding professionals (aka "friendors"). These aren't just people we found on Google (well, you will find them there too, of course) but pros we would use at our own wedding. Trusted, knowledgeable, elevated, and all that good stuff.

Why is this guide special? It's curated and updated by a real person using feedback provided by you. No paid spots, no featured vendors, no payments of any kind... just an authentic list of talented, local people. We happen to love them and their work and hope you find someone you do, too.

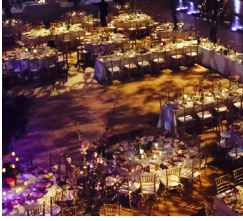

You'll also find a free vendor checklist here for you to use in your planning process. This will help ensure you get all the professionals you love booked for your big day without missing any major ones. We always recommend finding which vendor is the most important to you both and seeing if your wedding date is available with them first. If your date is not available, you may want to work around their schedule and then adjust accordingly!

From the paper you choose to the finishing details, we consider every element important in communicating your wedding aesthetic. We work to understand what's important to your relationship, your individuality, and your vision so we can support that part of your wedding story with fully custom, curated, and inspired invitation design. We can take that vision even further with matching reception signage.

See more of our creative process, what tools we use to guide you through each step, and how we deliver our signature client experience all online on our website at www.stonefawxstudios.com/custom-invitations

INVITATIONS ARE AN
EVENTS' FIRST IMPRESSION.
IF IT'S NOT THAT GREAT,
YOUR GUESTS MAY NOT THINK IT'S GOING TO BE THAT GREAT EITHER!
